Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Friday 18 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly dry with sunny spells.

Today:
A few showers across the north through the morning, elsewhere largely dry and, after a chilly start, some good spells of sunshine. Cloud will bubble up for the afternoon with perhaps the odd shower over the hills.

Tonight:
A mainly dry evening with late sunny then clear spells. However cloud increases across the south through the early hours bringing a little patchy light rain. Chilly in north.

Saturday:
Rather cloudy start in south with patchy rain, otherwise bright with sunny spells and a few showers in west. Showers may develop more widely across west and central parts later.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Bright start in north Sunday but outbreaks of rain, perhaps heavy in south, spreading north. Rather cloudy Monday with outbreaks of rain clearing southwestwards. Mainly dry Tuesday with sunny spells.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.